

Turnkey Relocations

If you're considering moving your machines, then you need look no further than Egenolf Industrial Group. With 35 years of real world experience, Egenolf has moved machines weighing as much as 100 tons. With DGN lowboys, step-decks, flats and vans, we have the equipment and expertise to provide you with contract hauling and long-distance transportation services.

Egenolf provides full turnkey relocation services for industrial machinery. This means that we will not only move your vital equipment, but can also store your machinery until you require re-installation in your new work space. This removes the worry of our clients finding separate companies to move and store their valuable and essential industrial machinery.

In addition to transportation, Egenolf can also provide warehousing, if needed. We have 10,000 sq. ft. of heated, dry storage and plenty of outdoor spaces available. We will store your industrial machinery in a perfect environment to insure that it is in peak working order when re-installation occurs. This means a lot less down time once your machinery is in place in your new location. You can be confident that your machinery is not only safely moved and transported, but also stored in the best environment for future use.
